Acquisition of Legal Protection

*This presentation will focus on registrability and maintenance issues relating to the new types of trade marks which so often form an important part of a trader's brand covering in particular selecting a trade mark, new trends in trade marking and common pitfalls in making trade mark applications and including a commentary on the recent Federal Court decision in Chocolate Guylian NV v Registrar of Trade Marks.*

Presenter: Trevor Stevens, partner of Davies Collison Cave specialising in trade marks law and practice and teacher in the Masters/graduate trade marks courses at the University of Melbourne and the University of Technology, Sydney.

Scope of Legal Protection

*This presentation will focus on the ability of traders to prevent the unauthorised use of their trade marks and brands covering in particular the prevention of such use on non-competing goods and services under subsections 120(2) and 120(3) of the Trade Marks Act and including a commentary on the Federal Court decisions in E&J Gallo Winery v Lion Nathan Pty Ltd and on the European Court of Justice decision in L'Oreal SA v Bellure NV.*

Presenter: Janice Luck, Senior Lecturer at the University of Melbourne specialising in the teaching of trade marks law and Special Counsel, DLA Phillips Fox, Melbourne

Market Realities of Acquiring and Protecting Brands

This presentation will focus on why brands enhance firm value and on threats to brand value from marketing and traders' management practices including in particular valuing and earnings management practices and changes within the supply chain.

Presenter: Don O'Sullivan, Senior Fellow Melbourne Business School specialising in marketing assets and firm value.
